2015 Price List for the Eco-Lodge at La Pedregoza, Vichada, Colombia

La Pedregoza is a natural reserve registered with RESNATUR and Parques Nacionales Naturales de Colombia. It is also an afforestation and reforestation project using natural farming techniques and agroforestry to enhance the soils and productivity of the area. The natural reserve offers 4 distinct eco-systems, which display considerable variation depending on the season. Those eco-systems are inundation forest, gallery forest, morichal and savannah. On the forestry side 40 different tree species are cultivated for lumber, fruit, carbon sequestration and expanded animal habitat. La Pedregoza is rich in biodiversity, with amazing flora and fauna. Bird watchers, tree huggers, nature lovers and those looking for a unique experience will all find something at La Pedregoza.
